HONEYLOCUST, IMPERIAL -

Gleditsia

Imperial Locust is an exceptionally graceful, spreading variety that is destined for recognition as one of the outstanding trees of this age. Branches are symmetrically arranged, forming a much more regular and compact tree than other Honeylocusts.

Numerous, well-spaced branches emerge from the trunk at nearly 90-degree angles thereby assuring strong crotches. The prolific branching results in a uniform, fairly broad, yet compact head. Even small nursery trees, as young as two years old, have the appearance of rather mature specimens.

The foliage is dainty and refined and has a fresh green color. Leaves are spaced closer than on the common Honeylocust and, because of the dense branching habit, form a more dense cover.

MULCHES AND SOIL CONDITIONERS

PEAT MOSS

Used extensively by professional and amateur gardeners both as a mulch and as a soil conditioner. Used as a mulch, it helps retain moisture and keeps down weeds; as a soil conditioner, it lightens heavy soil and improves the texture of light or sandy soils.

TOP SOIL

Unfortunately top soil is becoming more difficult to obtain each year. The top soil we offer is used successfully in our greenhouses and landscaping work. Although it often does not have the dark color nor medium texture customarily associated with top soil in years gone by, this does not seriously detract from its usefulness for lawns or general planting.
